Special Arrangements.

By special arrangement the Blue Grass Traction Company will be able to handle the immense crowds that will attend the Bourbon County Fair September 6 to 10, inclusive. No inconvenience on the part of the patrons of the fair this year will be suffered as every provision will be made to facilitate the handling of the crowds to and from the grounds.

Foresight.

The man who makes money in real estate is the man who can anticipate the needs of the future. Such a person knows that when the L. & N. improvements are completed, firemen and engineers will begin and end their day's work at the new round house. Conductors and brakemen will begin and end their day's work in the new upper yards. These men will want houses near at hand. That is why lots in Highland Place on Sixteenth and Cypress streets will be a good investment.

Notice to Contractors.

Sealed bids will be received at Road Supervisor's office Paris, Ky., until Saturday, August 20, 1910, for erection of concrete abutments for bridge over Johnson creek, near Clintonville, Ky., at which time all bids will be opened and contract let to lowest and best bidder. By order of committee.

C. W. Turner's Murder.

The following letter has been received in Paris in regard to the murder of C. W. (Squire) Turner in Hot Springs:

Dear Sir & Brother—I wish to acknowledge your cordial letter of the 12th, and to give you such further particulars as I can of the foul murder of Brother C. W. Turner and of the steps we contemplate to secure the just punishment of his assassin.

From the best information I can obtain Brother Turner's connection with the Purnell family was perfectly innocent of any wrong intent. While here a year ago he became acquainted with them and stopped with them at the Savoy Hotel. On this visit he met Mr. Purnell at the depot and very naturally, accompanied him to a smaller rooming house which Purnell is now running.

It seems that Purnell had some trouble with his wife over the division of the sale price of the Savoy Hotel—a mere matter of cash she having pocketed the full proceeds of the sale—and was watching her actions pretty close. Brother Turner accompanied Mrs. Purnell to a place of amusement a few nights before the murder.

Purnell says he warned Turner not to go with his wife again. However, this may be, on the evening of the murder, Brother Turner asked a young lady in the house to go with him to the picture show, for some reason, she declined and Mrs. Purnell said: "I'll go with you." Brother Turner told her that he did not care to take her and gave some excuse in a low tone not heard by the others.

She insisted, however, saying: "I'll go with you anyhow," and in a measure forced her company upon him. Upon their return, Purnell, who had for one hour been lying in wait in a darkened room opposite the front door, stepped out and commenced shooting Brother Turner, who was heard to say before he fell, "Don't shoot me Purnell, I haven't done anything," all the time walking away from the assassin. Purnell shot six times, four shots taking effect. Death was almost instantaneous.

Purnell is a man of questionable character and his wife about the most unattractive woman one could imagine. She is about 45 years old, six feet tall, very thin, in poor health, near sighted and one cannot conceive of any grounds for the jealousy which Purnell claims as his justification.

Upon hearing the circumstances I at once wired you and secured the attendance of Brother J. P. Henderson, for many years State's Attorney for this district, to attend the inquest and assist in the prosecution.

We would be pleased to hear your wishes in the matter. We can rely on the local Elks also for assistance. Although our lodge is a weak one financially and has many calls upon its resources, I think the brethren will concur in my opinion that our duty demands that no stone be left unturned to secure justice for Brother Turner's murderer and the foul slander with which he seeks to justify his cowardly and wanton act.

Weber's Military Band for the Fair.

One of the most pleasing features of the Bourbon Fair which is to be held in this city September 6-10 inclusive, will be the music which is to be furnished by Weber's Military Band of Cincinnati. Last year the musical program greatly pleased the patrons of the fair and the officers of the society this year secured the services of Weber and his celebrated band to furnish the music.

Death Result of His Own Act.

That the lamentable death of Mr. Ernest A. Hornbrook, whose lifeless body was found in the reservoir at Lexington early Monday morning, was the result of his own act was the finding of the Coroner's jury, empaneled by Acting Coroner Ben D. Bell, which completed its inquiry Tuesday morning.

The jury viewed the body Monday afternoon and examined several witnesses, and adjourned until Tuesday morning to complete its investigation. The witnesses who testified on Tuesday morning were J. C. Bailey, of 123 Indiana avenue, C. & O. Railroad conductor, who discovered the clothes of the missing man on the bank, and W. G. Proctor and Al Rumsey, who took the body from the water.

Following the testimony of the witnesses, the jury returned the following verdict:

"We, the jury, find the body before us to be that of E. A. Hornbrook, aged 41 years, and from the testimony we find that he came to his death on August 15, 1910, from drowning in the reservoir, near Lexington, Ky., and that it was his own act."

The funeral of Mr. Hornbrook was held Wednesday afternoon at 4 o'clock at the family residence in Lexington, Rev. J. W. Porter, pastor of the First Baptist Church, officiating. The pall-bearers were: F. B. Carr, John A. Warren, O. B. Wilkerson, J. A. Willis, C. V. Sullivan, A. S. Farley, Ken Walker, M. H. H. Davis.
